

LIS department Research Support organizes an annual research meeting for researchers of Tilburg University on subjects like research data management, copyright and open access publishing.

Meeting 'Maximize Your Research Impact'

Tuesday 20 October 2015, 13.30 – 17.00 hrs.

Location Tilburg University, Tias Building, lecture room T4

Half-day event led by Marc van den Berg, director of Library and IT Services with talks and network opportunities during tea break and at the end of the meeting.

We especially would like to invite young researchers to attend the event, but of course, all Tilburg University researchers are welcome.

Program

13.30 – 13.35

Opening - Prof. Emile Aarts, Rector Magnificus Tilburg University

13.35 – 14.10

The impact of daily research practice - Chris Hartegerink (Tilburg School of Social and Behavioral Sciences)

14.10 – 14.45

Preparing for responsible research - Marjan Grootveld (DANS, Data Archiving and Networked Services)

14.45 – 15.05 Short break

15.05 – 15.40

Disposable scientists - Marijtje Jongsma (Radboud University and chairman of the VAWO - union for scientists)

15.40 – 16.15

Altmetrics: what can we learn from them? - Rodrigo Costas (Center for Science and Technology Studies (CWTS), Leiden University)

16.15 – 17.00 Drinks

The working language of this meeting is English.

Registration

Participation is free of charge but subject to registration. Please notify the LIS secretariat by sending an email to LIS-secretariaat@lists.uvt.nl with your name, school/department and whether or not you will be joining us for drinks after the event.

Questions? Please contact Marijke van der Ploeg or Petra Ploeg of the LIS department Research Support.

This meeting is organized in the context of the Open Access Week, an annual global event intended to highlight the benefits of Open Access. In 2015, it takes place from October 19 to 25. More information www.openaccessweek.org or www.openaccess.nl